If I want to use my card in New Zealand or Fiji how can I check the foreign exchange rate applied to the card credit?

At the time payment is deducted from the card the hotel will apply the exchange rate for converting the New Zealand or Fijian dollar price (as applicable) for those services into Australian dollars ('Conversion Rate')

Conversion Rate for NZD$1 or FJD$1 = Spot Rate (AUD$) x [100% + the Margin],

where:

Spot Rate means the spot rate obtained from www.oanda.com for the number of New Zealand or Fijian dollars (as applicable) represented by one Australian dollar; and Margin means a margin determined by the Manager from time to time (approximately 1%). If the amount that is required to pay to the hotel in New Zealand or Fijian dollars (as applicable) exceeds the Australian dollar value of the balance left on the Card, the Card Holder will be required to pay the difference in New Zealand or Fijian dollars (as applicable) to the hotel.

The Card balance will then be reduced by the AUD$ amount in accordance with standard procedures for adjusting Card balances.

The Conversion Rate may differ from exchange rates available at the time a Card Holder makes a booking to the time of stay at a New Zealand or Fijian hotel*.

Please note that the hotel will not be liable to the Card Holder where the AUD$ amount actually payable differs from the amount the Card Holder anticipated would be payable as a result of currency exchange rate fluctuations that occur between the time the Customer makes the booking and the time at which the amount is deducted from the gift card balance.
